THE Democrats are weakening!

THIS extra session of Congress will coat the tax-payers of the country not less than two millions of dollars

RIGID BACKBONE HAYES is the new name the Bourbons have given him since they have aroused his "amiable obstinacy."

DEN and HENDRICKS promises to be as fruitful of material results as the discovery of a last year's bird's nest, and one of the campaigning in the Republican party last oughly befouled it.

Ir now looks as if the Southern people would soon have to learn to work and earn their bread and manage their household affairs by the sweat of their own brows, instead of those of the "disgusting niggers." Verily, Providence works in a mysterious way to vindicate the principles of American independence.

New faces expending of $100,000 in the whole counand new styles are the prevailing features of the streets, where it costs less to hold forth than it does to "hire a hall."

EVERY Democratic blockhead in the country is scratching his wooden apex and cudgelling his frugal brain to find out how it happened that the Administration contributed liberally last fall to the Republican campaign fund. Should any one ask them the question how it happened they would reply, "I do'no!" Sad state of ignorance.

It is intimated that our Indian affairs sampled by the Commissioners.

 $\mathbf{I}\tau$ is suggested that Sergeant BATES shall arm himself with an American flag and pay a social visit to Okolona, Miss. In return the editor of the Southern States newspaper of that obscure burg might arm himself with his dearly beloved Confederate flag and march to a lunatic asylum. But the better plan would be to hand-cuff BATES and the editor together and march them both to Tophet.

THE bottom has fallen out of the charges against Representatives Young and Bur-TERWORTH, of the Cincinnati districts. This was to have been expected; in fact, it was conceded by Mr. SAYLER, the opponent of Major BUTTERWORTH. The truth is the charges never had a respectable foundation, either in the bonn fide signatures attached to them or in the character of the almshouse loafers who presented them.

THE Chicago Herald is a new-fledged Democratic paper which has fived nine days and still its eyes are not open to the truth of history. It says "SEWARD, CHASE, " BATES, and WELLES, of LINCOLN'S Cabinet, died in the opposition in which " MONTGOMERY BLAIR still lives." This would not have been said of SEWARD. CHASE, and WELLES while living without a rebuke; but, being dead, of course a young Democratic organ is brave enough to slander their memories. This young candidate for Democratic favor starts off well. It graduates high in the class of misrepresent-

THERE appeared in the post yesterday morning what purports to be an account of the proceedings of the Republican caucus of Thursday. It may be needless here, where the lying are known to greatly preponderate over the truthful proclivities of that sheet, to correct its statements, but nevertheless it is due to truth to say that the entire report is a fabrication beyond the fact that the caucus was held. No such speeches as the past gives were made by the gentlemen whose names are mentioned, nor were any such ideas as it sets forth expressed by them or any one else in the caucus. As a brazen falsifier of fact the post is a success.

In reviewing the situation the New York opinion to the effect that the Republican party has taken a brave stand, from which it will not recede under any circumstances. presses unbounded confidence that the none, no matter how high or pure, are ex- cal campaign and generally selected because a in this contest, and that nearly or all his nity if such offenses go unwhipped of jus- would busy themselves in hunting down Cabinet stand with him. It then raises its time. Mr. CAMERON may not be the most Republican frauds? This delicate sophistry dmonitory finger in this wise: "If any member of the Cabinet, or any person in any way authorized to speak for the Administration, or any Republican officeholder, arrays himself in a hostile attitude, it must be distinctly understood that he does so on his own responsibility, and at his own cost. He casts his lot with The Democracy, and will go down with the Democratic defeat. The Republican party is united, and there must be no compromise with the enemy."

THE duty of the Republican minority in longress to fight the battles of the party in that body is now conceded to be an imperative requisite of the situation. A full, prolonged, and exhaustive debate upon the pending differences between the two parties will ecessarily cusue, and then, if the Republians fail by means of fair argument and egitimate parliamentary warfare to overcome the seditions designs of the Bourbons, the veto power of the Executive may be properly invoked. This plan will serve to enlighten the country regarding those designs and show that the Bourbons rely solely upon brute force for the accomplishment of their purposes.

SENATOR ZACH CHANDLER, who is chairman of the Republican State Committee of Michigan, has fired off another stalwart cartridge in the shape of an address to the voters. After congratulating the people on Cleveland Herald in saying: the prospective revival of business under Republican resumption, he says:

The Republican party redeems its pledges to the people, stands by its colors, takes no step backward, offers no apologies, cites its record of unsurpassed excellence as a guarantee of its future course. So long as the credit of the country is menaced, its integrity questioned, its citizens denied equal political rights, its authority successfully defied; so long as the education of the people is neglected, the ballot-box cation of the people is neglected, the ballot-box tampered with, or freedom of speech denied in any portion of the country, so long will the Republican party have a high and patriotic duty to perform, and will continue to ask the support of all who favor the perpetuation of free Republican institutions, based upon the universal intelligence of the people.

DEMOCRATIC PURITY.

The Democrats are holding up their hands in holy horror because Secretary GORHAM revealed the "true inwardness" of political foul kind wherein the occupant had thor- fall and admitted just how much money was raised for campaign purposes and how it was expended by the Republican Congressional Committee. When this was out, then "Tray, BLANCHE, and Sweetheart" were off on a loud bay all over the country, and every Democratic kennel in the land has been vocal with howls and yelps of horror at such violations of civil service and such corruption in our elections. There is not a Democratic yelper from New Orleans THE barbers have very little hair-cutting to Maine who is not almost paralyzed with astonishment that money is subscribed, paid, paigns, and he makes more noise over the try to promote the election of Republican Representatives in Congress than he does over the offer of an equal amount to bribe a returning board to gain a single State to TILDEN in 1876. That is the difference. If Democrats have to say? The world would their distressing howls.

The Republicans in this instance have done just what duty, propriety, and usage are getting into irregular shape again. CURRENT SEMI-TONES.

Facts, Arguments, and Speculations Regarding the Situation.

There is really no change in the political ituation, although the House has now been engaged for two days in the work incident to the incipient stages of the Bourbon attempt to bull-doze the Government. The Republican ranks are solid, notwithstanding all reports to the contrary, from the President down to the last file of the party alignment in the House. Some of these reports affecting the standing of certain New England Senators have been traced to Democratic sources, where the wish served as father to the thought. In fact it seems to have been the mistaken assumption of some of the Democratic managers that the Liberalism of the Senators in question, as illustrated by their peculiar theories of civil service reform, could be accepted as a safe iudication that they would prove to be weak-kneed -"conciliatory" they call it-in the present

The Democratic managers knew that the faintest demonstration of this spirit in the Republican party in Congress, in either House, would serve as an entering wedge for further the Republican party rolled out its money and more complete demoralization in the party, in bar'ls, a la TILDES, what then would and they did not spare, at the beginning of these horror-stricken, conscience-smitten this contest, any effort to encourage its development and growth. Fortunately for the country, not be large enough to contain the noise of however, they asserted their sectional selfishness and undisguised desire for partisan suc cess so prominently and obtrusively that the cautious suspicions of the Northern leaders alluded to were aroused and the result has been to expel from the minds of the latter all experithrust upon their attention the serious consideration of apparent danger to our institutions. To illustrate this meaning: It is known that one certain Senator believes faithfully cratic party over a sand-bar on which it and carnestly in the non-partisan bestowal of has struck, and now sticks, in an ill-ad- public office. He insists that the policy of giving offices to one class of partisans only, to the exclusion of all other classes, has the offect to allerate the latter from a proper interest in the Government. He thinks this course cannot fail to build up a partisan aristocracy of office holders, whose capidity would naturally be aroused to the extent of misusing their official power for effects of its own foolish blunders, that the sole purpose of retaining themselves in party is the Democratic, and now is the day office, instead of advancing the success of party of its disaster. The Democratic guage of principles. He therefore believes that it is the tactics is to endeavor to make the country patriotic duty of any Administration, no matlating to the elective franchise, and hence altion of especial or individual merit in an official way of its opponents. In other words, he would make use of the power to bestow offices more in the interest of a general attempt to attract the selfish interest of the entire people power to prevent either or to punish the to the support of the Government than as a reward for services rendered to the Adminis-

The Bourbon managers seized upon these peculiar theories as conclusive proof that the tentations lead in the direction of a non-partisan-so-called-election. But they have been disappointed. They found that he exacted as much of them as he was willing to yield. And they could not convince him that the abolition of the supervisor system would be followed by uralization-papers system in the North. In short, they very soon abandoned all attempts to "tamper" with him, and in the course of events he became so involved in the recent debates in the Senate as to provoke his most earn est autagonism to the solitious attempts to reassert the rights of the States to the supervision of untional elections. This illustration is perhaps of more importance in other respects than as an explanation which belongs to the bench and jury-the of how one Republican, following the bent of one to interpret the law and the other to patriotic and partisan inspiration, was injudge of the law and the facts. We will duced to abandon a pet theory and adopt the not, therefore, even now, give an opinion of more reasonable policy of "fighting the devi with fire," for it shows how all, or nearly all that to be adjudicated by a jury of Mrs. the Liberais have been gradually, though cor-OLIVER'S countrymen, who are to consider tainly, driven back into the Republican ranks. The Democratic argument against the employment of "great armies of special deputy marshals" by the Republicans has been o weight with these Liberals. It is, in effect which are of themselves removed a little that Republican deputies of Republican marshals would naturally be more anxious or as them the subject of proper remark. Leave siduous in ferreting out, preventing, or securing the question to be decided by the jury ing the punishment of Democratic than of to marry the widow, and what measure of of these men for ten or two or three days, as

And these supervisors-not the deputy mar bals-are the officials whose duty it is, and as the title of the office signifies, to supervise the elections. Beside this, the deputy marshals are sworn to perform the especial duties devolving upon them, an oath which renders them as liable to service, and as subordinate to ce the Democratic party in Pennsylvania lican supervisor. It is therefore apparent that making the most, for it is upon such offal that | unless these deputies violate their official oaths the gross immoralities of this affair, forget. the official allies of the opposition as they are to serve the behests of the party from which their appointments may have emanated.

But after all is said, the fact remains that the law in question is intended to protect the purity of the ballot-box, and that any attempt to repeal it is an effort to remove a preventive of fraud. It is, as it stands, no more liable to abuse than any other human statute for the faithful execution of which free and independent citizens are solemnly obligated, and if the Democrats themselves now had the sole ap pointing power of the chief supervisors and marshals and their deputies, they would insist on its retention as the permanent law of the land. As it is they violently claim that it is a partisan law-a claim they cannot sustain without the assumption that every man who serves the Government under it is guilty o direct and palpable perjury.

Washinoron, B. C., March 4, 1879.
The Board having been advised by counsel that the annual meeting held on the 20th of January last and thereafter, and the proceedings thereat, were lilegal and void, and that it is competent for the Board now to order the annual meeting to be held in pursuance of the charter and by-laws, and the interests of the company requiring, under existing circumstances, that the fullest opportunity should be afforded for the expression of the sense of the policy holders, it is therefore ordered that the secretary give the me essary notice by advertisoment in at least two newspapers in the city of Washington, to be published three
